Mary -

The only time BAC has any impact is at the inception of the client. We were having problems with the DDR in that when clients were being reassigned to other bankers with multiple BACs to choose from, the system would just leave the BAC area blank. If the banker needed to update the DDR, they were unable to do so if the BAC area was blank. We decided that since the BAC area has no impact at any other time except upon the establishment of the client, we would allow the system to just default to the first BAC of the receiving banker so that area would not be blank and would not cause any problems when the banker needed to update the DDR.

Hope that adequately answers your question :o)

Regards,

Bonnie

SubjectQuestion on BACs

10/24/2006 07:53 AM

Hi Bonnie,

I had to reference the below DDR yesterday and I noted that the Banker BAC as noted below is incorrect. I was on Financial Markets, not Business Owners, when this DDR was approved. Does that impact anything? Of course, I have since moved to EMEA so my current BAC is different as well although Mr. Epstein remains my client.

I would appreciate your thoughts,

Mary
